Forty weeks ago of school
In September that seemed like eternity, but now I can only
wonder where they went. \longleftrightarrow
I don't think I'll ever forget
these last few months (How could I?) Remember the (Powder Puff) football game?
Tom McCarroll sure looked cute do a spread eagle as he cheered the girls on. I still think the football team
would have done better with Margie Small as center and Lenora Clougher as offensive end.

Remember back in our soph
year when John Jessberger made about 10 bucks on a dare to start dancing in the middle of the gym during an assembly?

Of course I can't forget to mention our gallant contribution
to inflation this year as the enterprising students of C.I. sold
everything from lollypops to blankets.
Mary Feller and her donut girls made 100% profit on every donut sold. The senior class sold what it advertised
as for about twice as much

"ANYBODY HAVE CHANGE
FOR A QUARTER?"

as they were worth; but at that point the faculty could have sold hominy grits and horseshoe and still have made a profit. But as Mr. Markey would say, "Remember SENIORS, there are choices to be made in our economy. Different people have different values." (You'd have to have had economics to get the significance)

Years from now when you're cleaning out a closet or fixing up your basement, you'll come across this book and you'll remember. You'll take your little Mary and Jimmy on your knee and you'll be back in 1970.

"See that kid with the glasses? No, this one. That's Mike Strudle (or something like that). Boy what a friend. I wonder how he's doing or where he is?"

But let's look at the good side. Just think — no more tests, no more homework, no more reports, no more gym class, no more football games, no more floats to build, no more Chaillot's to create, no more groups to belong to, no more routines to learn, no more trips to plan, no more senior balls, no more fun together, no more...

Strong consistent hitting enabled Bob Scarino to be selected for the League II All-Star squad.

Bart Froiseth

Although weak in pitching, the Central Islip varsity baseball team is counting on the skill and experience of John Parker, Bob Scarino, Andy Sweeney, Ray Marino, and Gene Hearl in their quest for another League II title.

J.V. BASEBALL
 Due to a loss of many of last year's seniors, the Varsity will have to hope for prospects from the J.V. to fill in vacated positions. It is hoped and expected that these newcomers can do the job.

J. Parker takes high and outside for a ball.

Clutch hitting and excellent defensive play were the key factors in C.I.'s emergence as League II champs. The double-play combination of Scarino-Marino-Parker time and again stifled opponent's scoring threats while the offensive power was supplied by catcher Gene Hearl and outfielder-first baseman Andy Sweeny.

The only high point in the 1969 soccer season was Eddie Bulgin's being named All-League Goalie. However, because of lack of experience, the team had a poor record of 3, 10, 2. With most of the team returning for the 1970 season, the future is brighter.

Although a young team which lost most of its starting players, the C.I. varsity basketball team has its strength in hustle and defense. Under the driving energies of Coach Tom Costello, the team did much more than could ever have been expected. With only two players returning from last year, John Williams and Bob Scarino, most of the pressure was on the shoulders of the team's underclassmen. As a matter of fact, with the young talent now present on the team, C.I. promises to be very much a contender in future years.

VOL. 3, No. 2 CENTRAL ISLIP HIGH SCHOOL NOVEMBER, 1969

STUDENTS PARENTS TEACHERS FORM ORGANIZATION

The incidents of last spring and late summer are still hot in the minds of us here in C. I. But in the business organization which, through the devoted efforts of some of the more concerned members of the community, has been founded to help clear up problems and prevent new ones. The organization that is being called into being is the Student Teacher Parent Organization of Central Islip High School.

The group meets once a week in the library of the high school in an attempt to open the lines of communication between students, teachers and parents. So far the success of the STPO has been marvelous so far as the communications end of things go. A part of this the STPO has come up with a solution to the problem of no meeting school activities. The solution must still be justified by the administration. The tentative solution proposed by the STPO is that not only teachers, but also parents organize activities and that they work in conjunction with a team of students who will act as "suppliers."

The ultimate success of this organization depends on each and every person connected with the high school. It is the only place where everyone has a chance to be heard and have an equal voice. It allows not only students and teachers to air their grievances, but also gives parents a chance to find out what's happening and to voice their opinions.

Attendance at meetings has been fairly good; however, more people are needed. It is up to you to see that your point of view is expressed and defended. The only way you can do that is to attend the meetings. It isn't too much to ask that you attend our meeting.

The turnout has been strong among the students and parents. Why there are not many teachers in attendance is not known. Sumner would have to ask them. The teachers who do show up are not there as anyone else at the meeting. It is hoped that the reason more people aren't showing up is not a lack of interest, but that no one has found out to come.

This organization affects each of us deeply. If you go to at least one meeting with an open mind and come away feeling disillusioned, you at least gave it a try. If you never go to a meeting, then you have no right to complain that nobody cares because you are the one who doesn't care.

MR. DIOMEDE "VOICE IN THE WIND"

Mr. Matthew Diomede, the author of "The Wind," received a partial scholarship to the Suffolk-Walker Reader Conference, held in New York City, October 1969. The International Why Who Who is Poetry (International Why Who Who Poetry Award) was presented to Mr. Diomede. Many of his poems have been, or are about to be published by the following magazines: New York State Education, Reader, Creative Review, American Poet, United Poets, Poetry Exchange, Hokus, Multilink, The Blue Field, The Firehouse, The Outlook, and Basic Education. One of his main objectives is to publish a book of poetry. Just recently, Mr. Diomede had five of his poems accepted for a new book, an anthology entitled "New Voices in the Wind."

BEYOND THE BLUE CURTAINS: SOUL VILLAGE

Soul Village, once the target of much controversial criticism, has now found itself existing in a more favorable atmosphere. Many dire changes have occurred. As a responsible goal seems to have been reached as a feeling of brotherhood.

New Members on Board

On July 1, Mr. Louis Rocco and Mr. Edward Smith, both of the office of Richard Boardman, as a result of the May 15 election, the office of Mr. Rocco had formerly that of Mr. William Miller. Mr. Smith occupies Mr. O'Leary's former seat. Neither Mr. Miller nor Mr. O'Leary ran for reelection.

Mr. Rocco has been a resident of Central Islip for some ten years. He is Chief Accountant for the Metropolitan Board of Foreign Missions, located in Manhattan. A father of two children, he has served on the Central Islip PTA and the Suffolk 1, 1 District of PTA.

Mr. Smith has been a resident of Central Islip for twenty-two years. He is employed by Atlantic Therapeutic Company of Central Islip. Always active in community affairs, he is presently the Vice President of the Lions Club of Central Islip.

MORATORIUM SUCCESS OR FAILURE?

On October 25, there from all over the country spread their wings in silent protest to end "business as usual" and revive a creative and artistic movement. Participation and spirit were phenomenal. The question still remains, however, as to the effectiveness and compliance of the Mass Administration to the desires of the people, whether based on force. The success is measured on a long-term basis, or are the Moratorium observers willing to complete whatever withdrawal of troops now? As yet, it seems they will have to be patient and wait for the long-term goal.

The Island itself had many "goings-on" that Wednesday, including rallies at various high schools and shopping centers, South Shore Mall, lectures at religious such as St. Ann's and announcements of all dimensions.

Some reported the day long peacefully, no shouting, no tear gas, but in an almost perfect silence. Participation was evident nearly everywhere. There is hope of the war kept their headlights on their own on the spotlights still focused predominantly on the war zone, and in terms of participation, they state the show.

A second Moratorium is planned for the weekend of November 25 and 26. Ten days have been allowed for the main, the time, and a continuous march on Washington is planned, with hopes of mass rallies. Buses will be available from the city at special Moratorium rates. Further the end of the Vietnam War will be determined by the success or failure of that weekend. For the establishment of peace and the thousands of potential lives that it is certainly hoped so.

HOME COMING: EIGHT YEAR TRADITION

HOME COMING: What does that mean to you? I've seen it last night on many televisions throughout the year and many many different things to different people. What does Homecoming mean to Central Islip? Not much, that's for sure. Homecoming has been around in C.I. as long as the football team has been in. This is one of the many traditions I have received. Another was "C.I. that's the girl" which was the name of the football team.

This weekend, November 14 and 15, the Central Islip Teachers Association will present its production of "Star Spangled Girl" by Neil Simon. The play, a 1966 musical on Broadway starred Tony Perkins, Edward G. Robinson, and Carmen Duncan.

Directed by Mr. Harold Miller, the play opens in a Manhattan New York apartment. Two young men, Norman and Andy, played by Mr. Harold Miller and Mr. William Miller, respectively, are both working on "Fallout" as anti-aircraft engineers. While they are in their job, neither a girl from the very country of the mid-west, creates a love triangle. The young lady, Miss Schmitt, appears the face of her young man.

"Quiet promotion is headed by Mrs. Steven Tobolski for the production. She will be in charge of the production and will be in charge of the production. She will be in charge of the production and will be in charge of the production.

C.I.T.A. to Present "Star Spangled Girl"

This year, for the first time in C.I. history, it was done in a different way. The chair of the school sponsored girls when they felt should be given. These nominations were then given to the senior members of the football team, to vote on. Miss Peterson became the reigning queen in this manner. In the preceding years, the queen was picked solely by senior members of the football team.

Homecoming in C.I. doesn't mean a dare thing! The Queen, who is the whole idea of the Homecoming Dance, doesn't get any publicity worth mentioning.

Happy reminder.

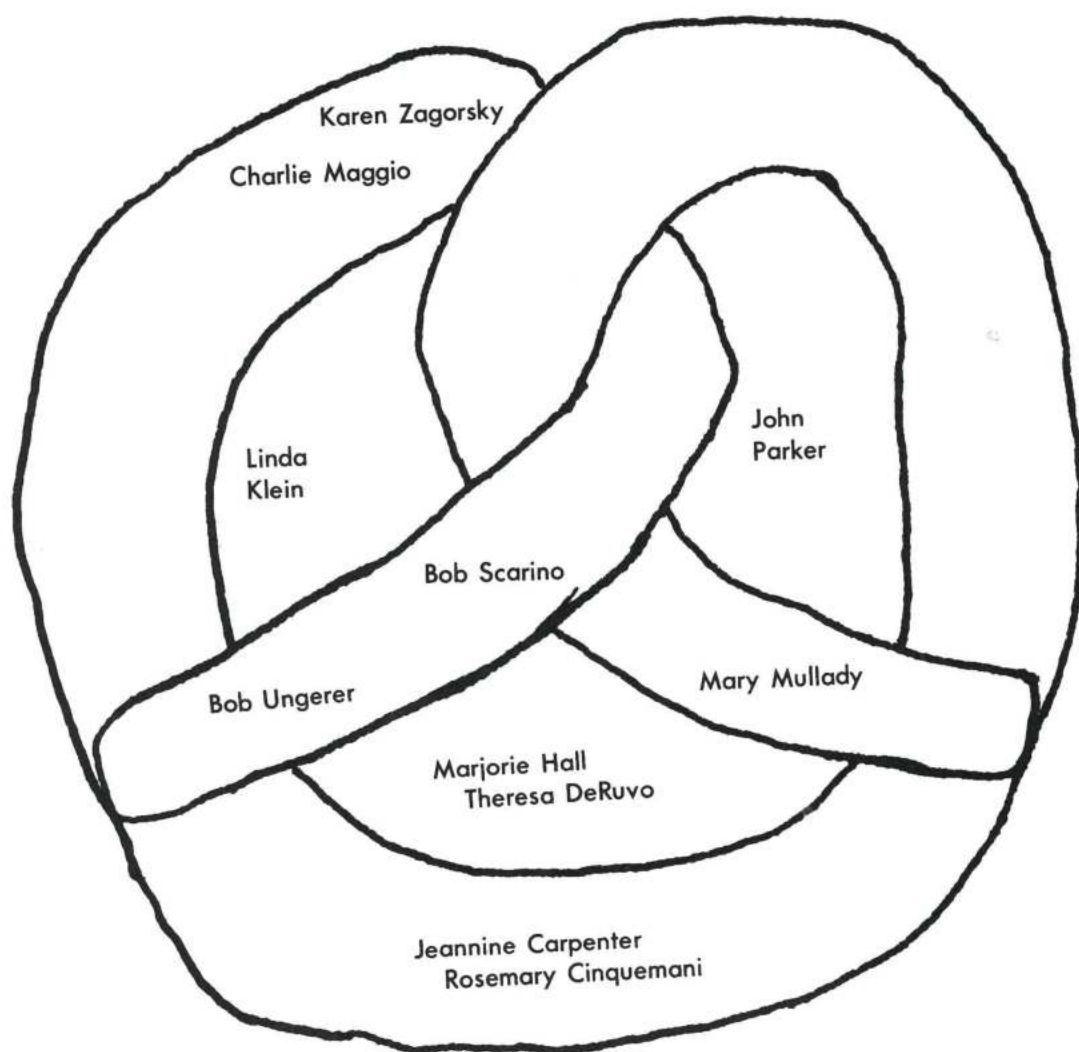

Life ahead offers many uncertainties.
But throughout the years one constant remains.
Your Balfour class ring. It will never fail as a happy reminder of the golden years you shared with your classmates. Wear it with pleasure.

Forty weeks ago of school
In September that seemed like
eternity, but now I can only
wonder where they went. \longleftrightarrow
I don't think I'll ever forget
these last few months (How could I?) Remember the (Powder Puff) football game?
Tom McCarroll sure looked
cute do a spread eagle as he cheered the girls on. I
still think the football team
would have done better with Margie Small as center and Lenora Clougher as offensive
end.

Remember back in our soph
year when John Gesberger
made about 10 bucks on a
dare to start dancing in the middle of the gym during an assembly?

Of course I can't forget to
mention our gallant contribution
to inflation this year as the enterprising students of C.I. sold
everything from lollypops to blankets.
Mary Feller and her donut girls made 100% profit on every donut sold. The
senior class sold what it advertised

"ANYBODY HAVE CHANGE

as they were worth; but at that point the faculty could have sold hominy grits and horseshoes and still have made a profit. But as Mr. Markey would say, "Remember SENIORS, there are choices to be made in our economy. Different people have different values." (You'd have to have had economics to get the significance)

Years from now when you're cleaning out a closet or fixing up your basement, you'll come across this book and you'll remember. You'll take your little Mary and Jimmy on your knee and you'll be back in 1970.

"See that kid with the glasses? No, this one. That's Mike Strudle (or something like that). Boy what a friend. I wonder how he's doing or where he is?"

But let's look at the good side. Just think — no more tests, no more homework, no more reports, no more gym class, no more football games, no more floats to build, no more Chaillot's to create, no more groups to belong to, no more routines to learn, no more trips to plan, no more senior balls, no more fun together, no more...
